

Do you want, desire holiness or unholiness to change your heart?

That is the question.

Holiness and unholiness has to do with your heart desires.

The desires of your heart are what people will see in your words, attitude, decisions, speech, body language, actions etc.

The desires of your heart will also influence your thoughts, feelings, discerning, attention, reasoning, seeing etc.

The desires of your heart may be strong, steady and stable, but that is what makes your heart also inflexible.

Someone who is inflexible is not open to the Change of the Lord God. Most people prefer to have a secure, solid and safe world, without any Change to their comfort zone. When you want to stay in your secure, stable, steady, solid, safe and strong comfort zone, you may miss out on something great, because Change means leaving your comfort zone.

The Israelites were in their comfort zone;

God provided a cloud over them to protect them from the desert sun.

God provided a pillar of fire to warm them at night.

God provided manna for the feeding of their bodies.

God provided water from a rock, so that they might drink.

Then God said, it is time to Change. The Israelites had to fight and take the Promised Land in by Faith. They had to leave their comfort zone, thus they had to Change. What happened was that they rebelled and had little Faith, so they were 40 years in the desert, because they did not want to leave their comfort zone and Change. When you are in your comfort zone you can become inflexible.

Flexibility means openness and willingness to Change, while inflexibility means closeness and unwillingness to Change.

God knows all the desires of your heart, but in order for God to give you your hearts desires you will have to Change.

Jesus Christ came to Change the closed door to an opened door, for us to have a relationship with the Lord God.

The Holy Spirit will come and live in your heart next to your desires, just give Him a chance to Change your heart.

Do you desire an inflexible heart or a flexible heart?
